The authentic pastes trusted by professional kitchens across the UK, now available for your home

Since 1990

Our business began in our kitchen in 1990 with four curry pastes that we supplied to our local curry house. Before we knew it word spread and we were supplying curry pastes up and down the country.

In 1995, we decided to create a retail range so everyone could enjoy the joys of authentic Indian food and cooking in their own homes - trouble was everything on the market was mass produced and contained saturated fats, E numbers, additives, preservatives, thick starches and far too much water.

From that day we made it our mission to create natural, honest flavours.
